Accessories

Integrated Plumbing System (IPS) Panel

An innovative approach and streamline the design, installation and maintenance of plumbing infrastructure

Features

System: Constructing a modular panel that combines several plumbing elements

Thermal Insulation: Layers to prevent heat loss from hot water lines and minimize condensation on cold lines.

Space Saving: Combining multiple plumbing functions into one panel can save space & reduce clutter in utility areas.

Ergonomics: Designed to fit within existing structures, addressing space constraints in residential or commercial buildings.

HPL Urinal Partition

It is designed specifically to provide privacy, hygiene, and durability in public or commercial restrooms. Typically consists of vertical panels that separate individual urinals, with a smooth, seamless surface that resists stains, water, and chemicals.

HPL Locker & Bench

A storage unit and sturdy seating solution designed for secure and durable storage in various environments such as schools, gyms, offices, and industrial facilities. Usually features multiple compartments or lockers with doors that can be lockable, often with handles, locks, or electronic locking mechanisms.
